Tour Title:

Pakistan

Tour Subtitle:

Digital Short Trip

Tour Date:

08. May 2021

Our Pakistani partner organisation Individual Land normally provides assistance for traumatised journalists in conflict areas or offers workshops for young people on the topic of preventing extremism.

Following our first events on Belutchistan, Sindh Province and the State of Women in Pakistan, the team, which comes from all over the country and speaks a broad variety of languages and dialects, would like to take you on yet another interactive short trip through Pakistan in cooperation with Alsharq REISE. After, visiting metropolises like Karachi, Lahore or Islamabad and meeting people in remote valleys like the Kalasha in the Hindu Kush region, this time we will learn more about the peculiarities of both Khyber Pakhtunkhwa (KP), the north-western province bordering Afghanistan and also known as Pashtunistan, and Gilgit-Baltistan where China and Pakistan meet amidst the Karakorum Mountain range that offers spectacular landscapes and hosts a rich diversity of people, languages and religions.

You can ask your questions at any time and enter into dialogue with the guides. Speaking of which: We are most looking forward to the humorous, self-deprecating and infectiously inspiring way in which our partners will present their exciting country.

Content Left Column:

A Muslim Zion, a place of longing for mountain climbers, an artificially created state: the attributions generally made to Pakistan could hardly be any more different. The country has to offer so much more than the common associations of religious fanaticism, terror or the conflict with India. On this virtual journey, we want to take you to a country we know far too little about in Germany - and which, despite all its political challenges, is characterised by beautiful landscapes, artefacts of the entire human history and an open, hospitable society.

Content Right Column:

In the majestic, mythical and illusive Northern Areas of Pakistan many hearts have been won and lost. Lofty mountains call out to mountaineers challenging them to scale the mountain heights including the "killer mountain". The rich and diverse secular culture ensure pluralism thrives but alas has also been attacked by the right wing conservatives and is a strategic area for Pakistan, India and China. Join us for a tour of the culture, minerals and people of the Northern Areas.

We will meet people who speak different languages and dialects and belong to different ethnic groups and religious communities. People who are fighting together for a better Pakistan, for more tolerance and understanding between the different parties. People who care for traumatised journalists, mediate between hostile groups, work in the field of extremism prevention, in youth work and adult education. We are looking forward to taking you on this tour with our inspiring Pakistani hosts!
